

Announcing
New Saturday Class
At

Mountain View Parent Nursery School

Mountain View Parent Nursery School is excited to announce a pilot, five-week Saturday class. This extension of our award-winning preschool program is an opportunity for parents who would like to learn new parenting skills and be more involved in their children's preschool education, but who are currently unable to participate in our regular weekday classes.

The class will be held from 9 to noon on Saturdays, from July 10 through August 7. It offers all of the joyful, educational experiences of our regular classes and is open to children ages three to five.

In this class children will:

- ☛ Experience a wide variety of developmentally appropriate activities
- ☛ Play, paint, run, climb, swing, build, observe, listen, engage, sing, dance, relax, cut, paste, taste, smell, touch, feel, explore, share and be
- ☛ Begin to develop a sense of self-esteem from their individual successes, in an atmosphere of acceptance and support

And parents will:

- ☛ Share in your child's preschool experience
- ☛ Benefit from the guidance and experience of a professional preschool teaching staff
- ☛ Learn new parenting skills
- ☛ Meet, share and connect with other parents of preschool children

Parents will work in the classroom a minimum of three mornings during the five-week session, and attend one afternoon orientation meeting on Sunday, June 27th from 4:00-5:00pm at MVPNS .

Payment for the five-week program is $150. Applications are available at MVPNS and on our website, mvpns.org.
